

Employment

Early in career, not as big of a deal to get laid off.

People fall in love with their companies; try not to do that. The companies don't love you so don't fall in love with them. Work a regular day, do good work.

Some layoffs give you only an hour to collect your personal items and go.

Employers can't disclose why you are no longer working there. They can just report on the dates during which you worked.

Don't BS (pretend to know stuff you really don't) during an interview.

Get members.

Set up studio.

Flier – Ben will do this.

Do a live news feed during club rush where we run around with a portable camera interviewing representatives of each club at the rush. Use the wireless system. Brandon does interviewing. Somebody does camera. Somebody else does sound. Other people do the work required in the studio.

Lab Today
